

THE Longest
WAIT

WRITTEN BY ALISON BREWIS
ILLUSTRATED BY JENNY BRAKE

Two little children tucked up in their beds

but they're much too excited to lay down their heads.

The presents
are wrapped,

the carols are sung,

at the end of the beds,
the stockings are hung.

Tickety tock,
Tickety tock.

It feels like forever,
just watching the clock.

The Longest Wait is nearly done –

We're waiting for morning
to come.

Mary and Joseph have packed up their clothes,

with plenty of nappies,
and blue
babygros.

The angel said,

“Don't worry,

don't be AFRAID.

This baby is GOD'S

and he's coming to

SAVE!”

Tickety tock,
Tickety tock.

It feels like forever, just watching the clock.

The Longest Wait
is nearly done –

We're waiting for our baby son.

Anna and Simeon, both very old,
have trusted the promises
God has foretold.
